

B I N G O

RULES: Watch a boring 2AR and mark each square as it happens. The first player to mark five in a row, or their Instant Win, must shout out "BINGO!" to win.

If no one has won by the end of the round, all participants must stand up and do the wave.

THIS CARD'S INSTANT WIN: Partner visibly draws a large mushroom cloud on his/her flowpad

Insists than an argument was dropped (that wasn't)	Partner removes sticky notes from old evidence	"I'm going to respond to these together..."	"...boil down..."	Uses the same intro quote as another team
"Even if..."	Roadmap lasts longer than a minute	Timer forgets to give a hand signal	New evidence	"Um, so..."
Blatant use of a long word to sound smart	Clever wordplay	FREE	Compares author credentials	Hitler
"Clarifies" a previous statement	"Repetition is not refutation."	Roadmaps an argument with nothing but "They said..."	"Advantages" is a voting issue	Talks really fast in the last 30 seconds
Analogy involving animals, food, neighbors, or table legs	Completely new argument	"We've seen..."	Clicks pen	References plan advocate

B I N G O

RULES: Watch a boring 2AR and mark each square as it happens. The first player to mark five in a row, or their Instant Win, must shout out "BINGO!" to win.

If no one has won by the end of the round, all participants must stand up and do the wave.

THIS CARD'S INSTANT WIN: Judge falls asleep during the second voting issue

"In this final speech of the round..."	Compares evidence dates	Someone in the room starts texting	Says the wrong team name	Opponent drinks from water bottle
Nuclear war	Unrelated quote	Fiddles with tie/hair	Definitions dispute	"This flows Aff."
Voting issue is a bad pun	Justice, Democracy, or Lives Saved	FREE	"I don't have time to get into this..."	Repeats an already-refuted argument
Leaves evidence at the table	Partner stops flowing	"...excuse me..."	Example related to the judge's profession	Extremely general voting issue
Mispronounces opponent's source	"...absolutely no evidence..."	Refers to an advantage from the 1AC that was never discussed again	Steps from behind the podium	"In this speech, I am going to go down the flow..."

B I N G O

RULES: Watch a boring 2AR and mark each square as it happens. The first player to mark five in a row, or their Instant Win, must shout out "BINGO!" to win.

If no one has won by the end of the round, all participants must stand up and do the wave.

THIS CARD'S INSTANT WIN: Speaker knocks over the lectern while gesturing emphatically

Unrelated quote	Partner removes sticky notes from old evidence	"...boil down..."	"Even if..."	Completely new argument
"Clarifies" a previous statement	"In this final speech of the round..."	Partner stops flowing	Clever wordplay	"Um, so..."
Someone in the room starts texting	Voting issue is a bad pun	FREE	Compares author credentials	Repeats an already-refuted argument
Clicks pen	Roadmaps an argument with nothing but "They said..."	Example related to the judge's profession	Definitions dispute	Timer forgets to give a hand signal
Refers to an advantage from the 1AC that was never discussed again	Talks really fast in the last 30 seconds	Opponent drinks from water bottle	Mispronounces opponent's source	"In this speech, I am going to go down the flow..."

B I N G O

RULES: Watch a boring 2AR and mark each square as it happens. The first player to mark five in a row, or their Instant Win, must shout out "BINGO!" to win.

If no one has won by the end of the round, all participants must stand up and do the wave.

THIS CARD'S INSTANT WIN: Speaker fully covers Topicality twice (references don't count)

Steps from behind the podium	Compares evidence dates	"I'm going to respond to these together..."	"This flows Aff."	Fiddles with tie/hair
Nuclear war	New evidence	"...excuse me..."	References plan advocate	Blatant use of a long word to sound smart
Insists than an argument was dropped (that wasn't)	Roadmap lasts longer than a minute	FREE	"I don't have time to get into this..."	Uses the same intro quote as another team
Leaves evidence at the table	"Repetition is not refutation."	Extremely general voting issue	"Advantages" is a voting issue	Analogy involving animals, food, neighbors, or table legs
Justice, Democracy, or Lives Saved	Says the wrong team name	"We've seen..."	Hitler	"...absolutely no evidence..."